Retention and Drop-outs

2.19 It is important to examine school retention rates as they represent the real gains made by expanding facilities. Information in this regard is not available in sufficient detail. Notwithstanding this, some observations are made here on the basis of whatever little evidence is available. At the primary level, the retention of boys is improving although at a very slow rate. The retention rate for classes I to V improved from 33.5 in the case of 1968 batch to 38.6 per cent for 1974 batch. This trend is further confirmed by the data on cohort-wise primary school graduates. However, most of the gains in retention have been secured since the 'seventies.

2.21 Low retention and high drop out rates continue to erode the gains from educational expansion. The magnitude of wastage is emaciating the educational development in the country.

NPE AND ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

1986: National policy on Education (NPE)-

- Brought a sense of urgency for Universal Elementary Education
- It stated :“Time is the essence, and unless we act now, we stand in the danger of once again missing the opportunity of education reform, so critical not only for the development of our nation, but our very survival”
- recommends Free and Compulsory education up to 14 years

Expansion: The emphasis so far has been on enrolment of children - approximately 95% children in 6-11 age-group and 50% children in 11-14 age-group are enrolled in schools,

Concerns: Nearly 60% children drop out between classes I-V; 75% between classes I-VIII

- Rapid expansion, which was not accompanied by sufficient investment of resources, has caused a deterioration in academic standards.

THE POLICY AND TARGETS

NPE gives an unqualified priority to universalisation of elementary education (UEE). The thrust in elementary education emphasizes

- Universal access and enrolment.
- Universal retention of children upto 14 years of age.
- A substantial improvement in the quality of education to enable all children to achieve essential levels of learning (MLL).

Targets: 1990- Universal Primary education; 1995- Universal elementary education

The Policy 'also recognizes that unattractive school environment, unsatisfactory condition of buildings and insufficiency of instructional material function as demotivating factors for children and their parents... calls for a drive for a substantial improvement of primary schools and provision of support services. SECONDARY EDUCATION

SITUATIONAL ANALYSIS

1983: 56,323 secondary/higher secondary schools and 1,23,000 upper primary- This would give a ratio of 1: 2.5.

There are unserved areas in the country where, there is no (Secondary) school for 10 to 20 kms like in some tribal areas, desert or hilly areas where the low density of population does not allow enough children to be enrolled.

Strategies:

- Access to secondary education to be widened- emphasis on enrolment of girls, SCs and STs , particularly in science , commerce and vocational streams.
- Programme to ensure access to secondary education being widened to cover unserved areas:
- Programme of consolidation in other areas/schools:
- Programme of setting up Navodaya Vidyalayas

SECONDARY EDUCATION

- Recommended ratio: P: UP, UP: SS, and SS: HS – according to Kothari Commission
- Navodaya Vidyalayas
- Effort to provide computer literacy. Opportunities to be provided to children with special talent to proceed at a faster pace.
- Opening of - Open school system for secondary school
- NIOS: National Institute of Open Schooling
 - provides opportunities to interested learners by making available the following Courses/Programmes of Study through open and distance learning (ODL) mode.
